This "Unique" situation has made me think...

What about a Will, Power of Attorney or Guardianship?

During anxious times... as we find ourselves amidst now, we see a wide variety of human responses ...in response to Covid19, oddly we witnessed people stocking up on toilet roll (who thought that would be a reaction?), on a more positive note... we saw an increase in people checking in on their neighbours (which many hadn't previously).

In our business... we tend to see clients re-assessing their personal circumstances with thoughts turning to - looking for advice on amending their Will or making a Will - arranging or amending a Power of Attorney as it feels the right time to consider how to manage their future welfare - discussions involving when is Guardianship an appropriate option.

What can you do now as an existing BLACK HAY Client... you can contact your existing Solicitor to make arrangements to discuss your Will or perhaps a Power of Attorney, remembering that our Solicitors act solely for you and provide guidance in your best interests. Telephone or Email to make arrangements to discuss how we can best help you.

What can I do, as I don't have a Solicitor... contact us by Telephone or Email to make arrangements to discuss how we can best help you. It might seem a little daunting however you can be reassured that our Solicitors act solely for you and provide guidance in your best interests.

So, how can I see a Solicitor when you are only "remotely" Open for Business... if you make contact with us we can make arrangements to best handle your request.

If you have a friend or neighbour looking for Legal Advice, and they don't have a Solicitor... you are welcome to put them in touch with us. We will be happy to assist them.

We have been serving Our Clients since the 1930's ...so we look forward to assisting you now and in the future.
